Each game is an end and a beginning.

Reflections

Faces are mirrors of thought. Emotions and moods of a person show in his face. Students ponder a problem of technology; a coach's face is a study in concentration. A bus driver and a student capture glee and happiness in a moment of laughter. Intensive thought reflects in the eyes of another as she listens to the thoughts and opinions of another.

Students pass by Taft gym on their way to meals or to classes.

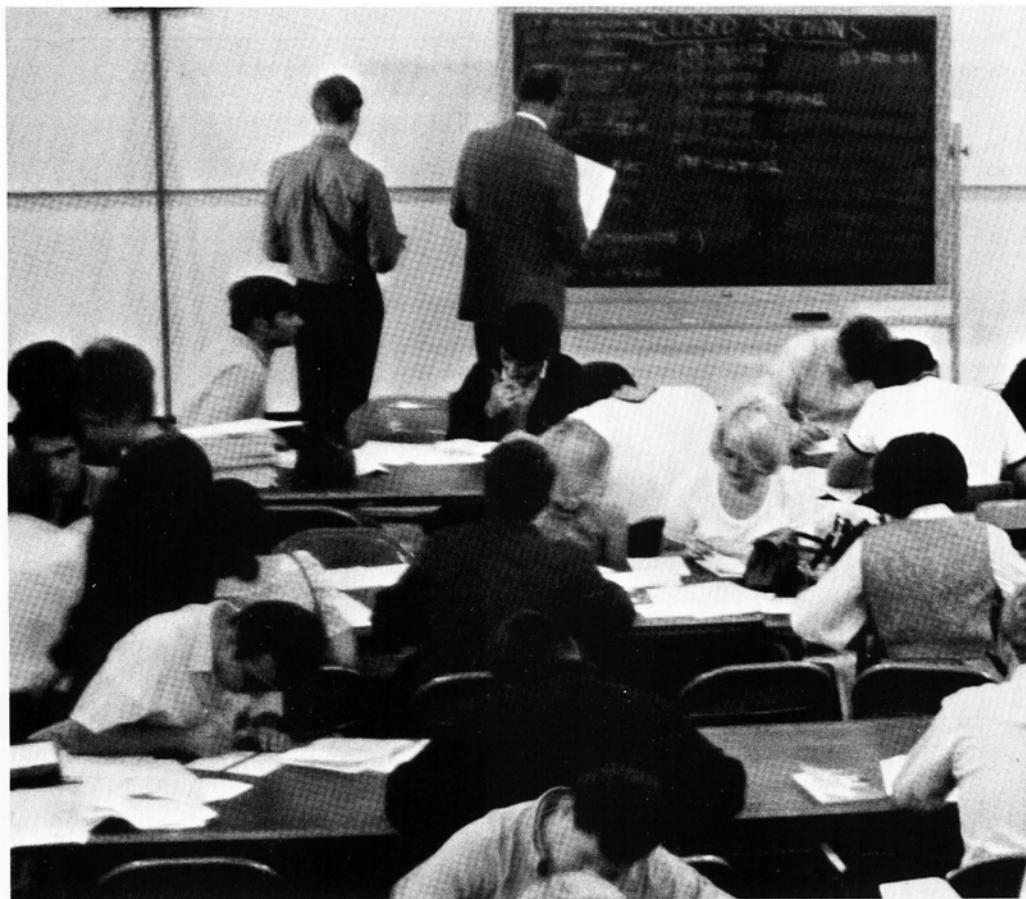

All is quiet at day's end.

The new year means much packing and unpacking.

The accounting office is a beehive at the start of a new quarter.

Faces Show Action

Emotions are found in students' faces and in their actions. Scheduling classes is frustrating and engrossing; the crowd tenses at a crucial moment; smiles flash as students pass. The switchboard operator is calm as she copes with students' calls.

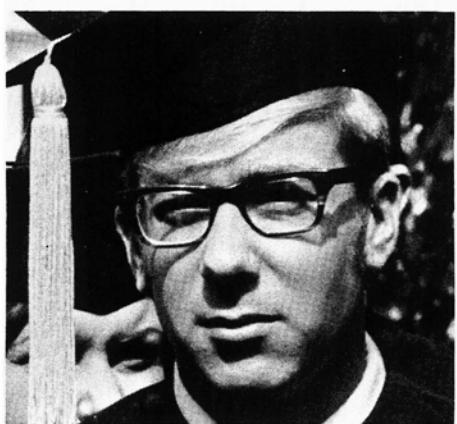

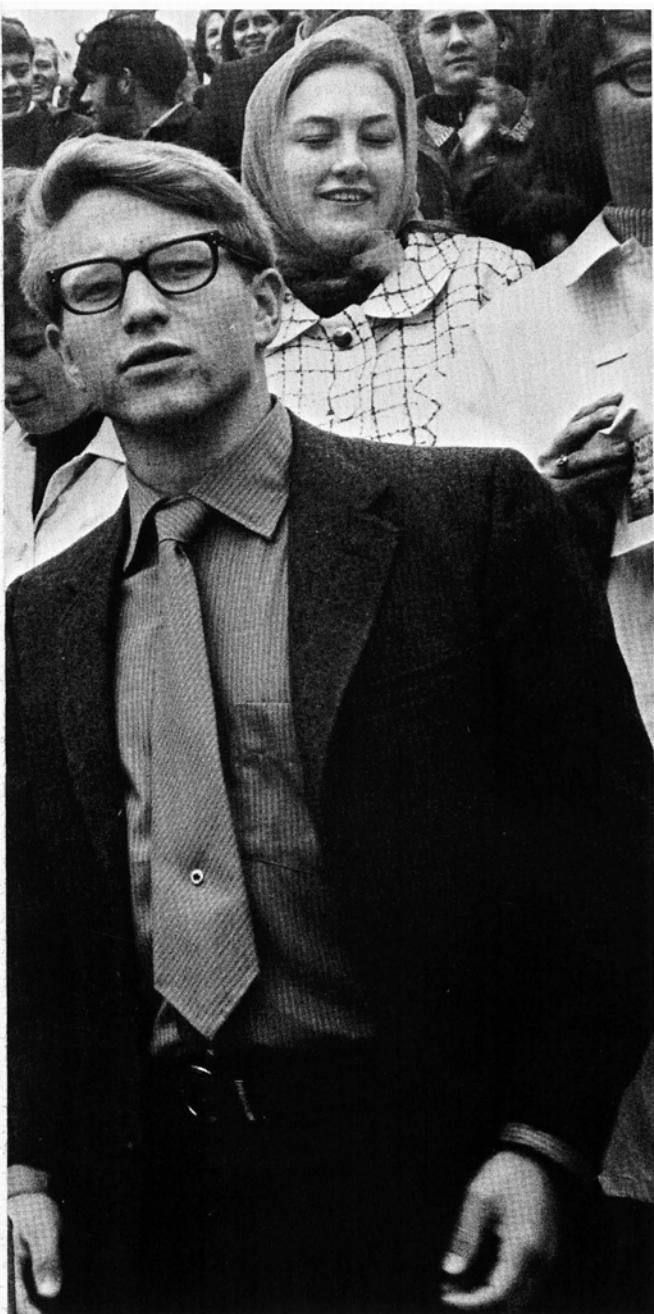

A new student seeks help from her advisor in formulating her class schedule.

The beanie and the sign indicate to all that this girl is a freshman.

Students look for friends prior to the start of a football game.

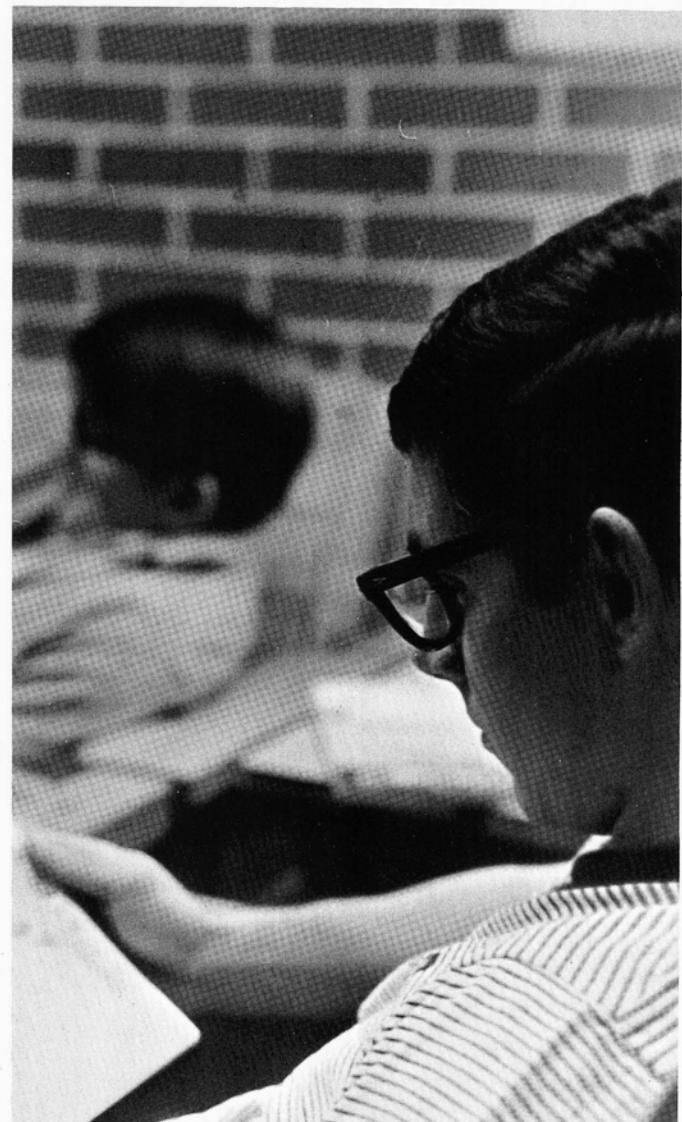

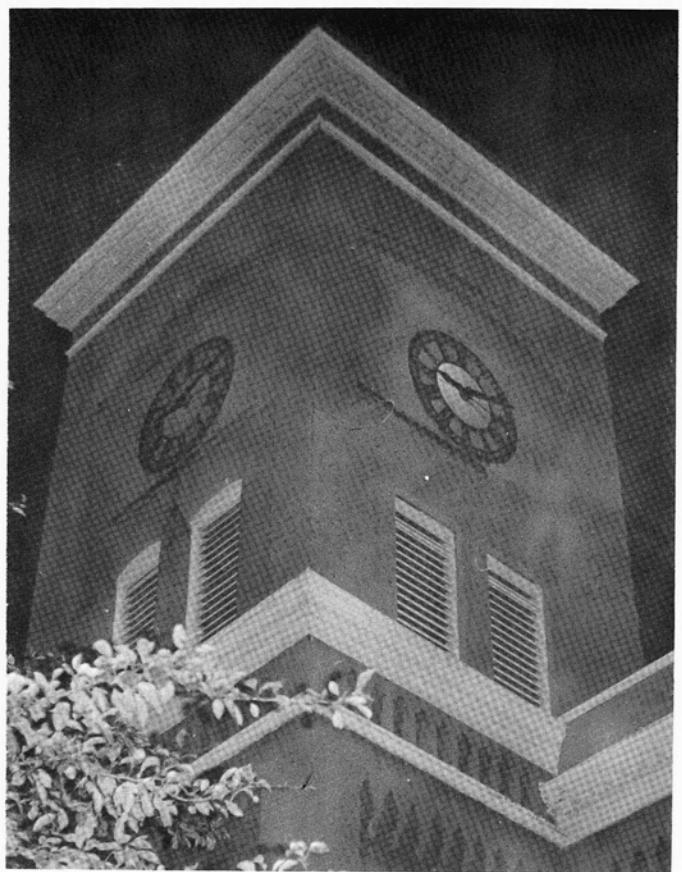

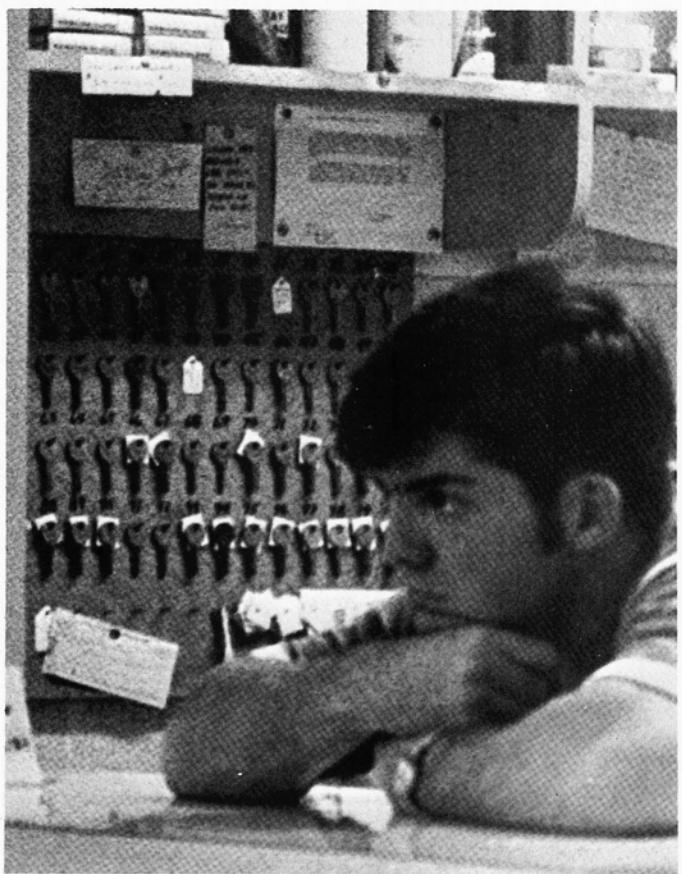

Patience reflects in the eyes of the spectator, the graduate, the child, and the singer. All wait for something: a score, a beginning, a joy, or an end.

Students Find Campus' Quiet Places

Quiet is where a student finds it. For some the library may be a hallowed spot; for others it may be an empty classroom or their dorm home. Where quiet is depends on the student, the place, and the time.

A couple finds solitude among the construction materials of the basic sciences building. A boy ponders the unknown while watching bowling. For some, quiet is found in the lounge of a dormitory.

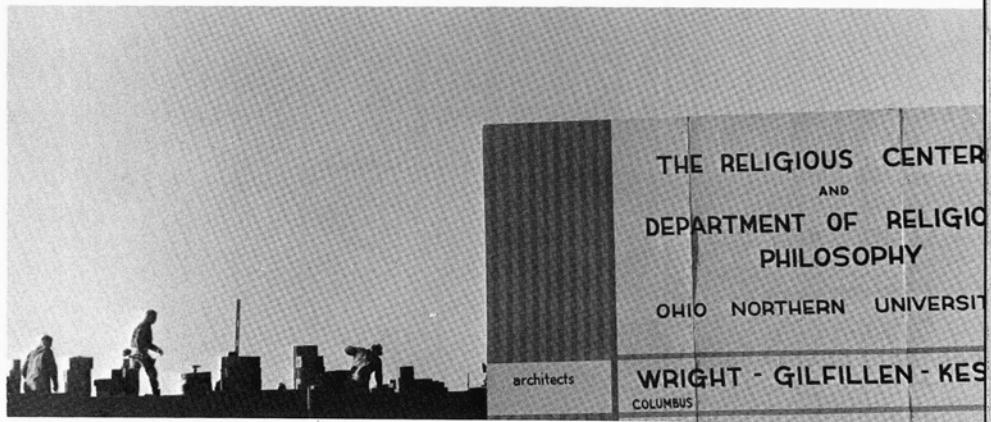

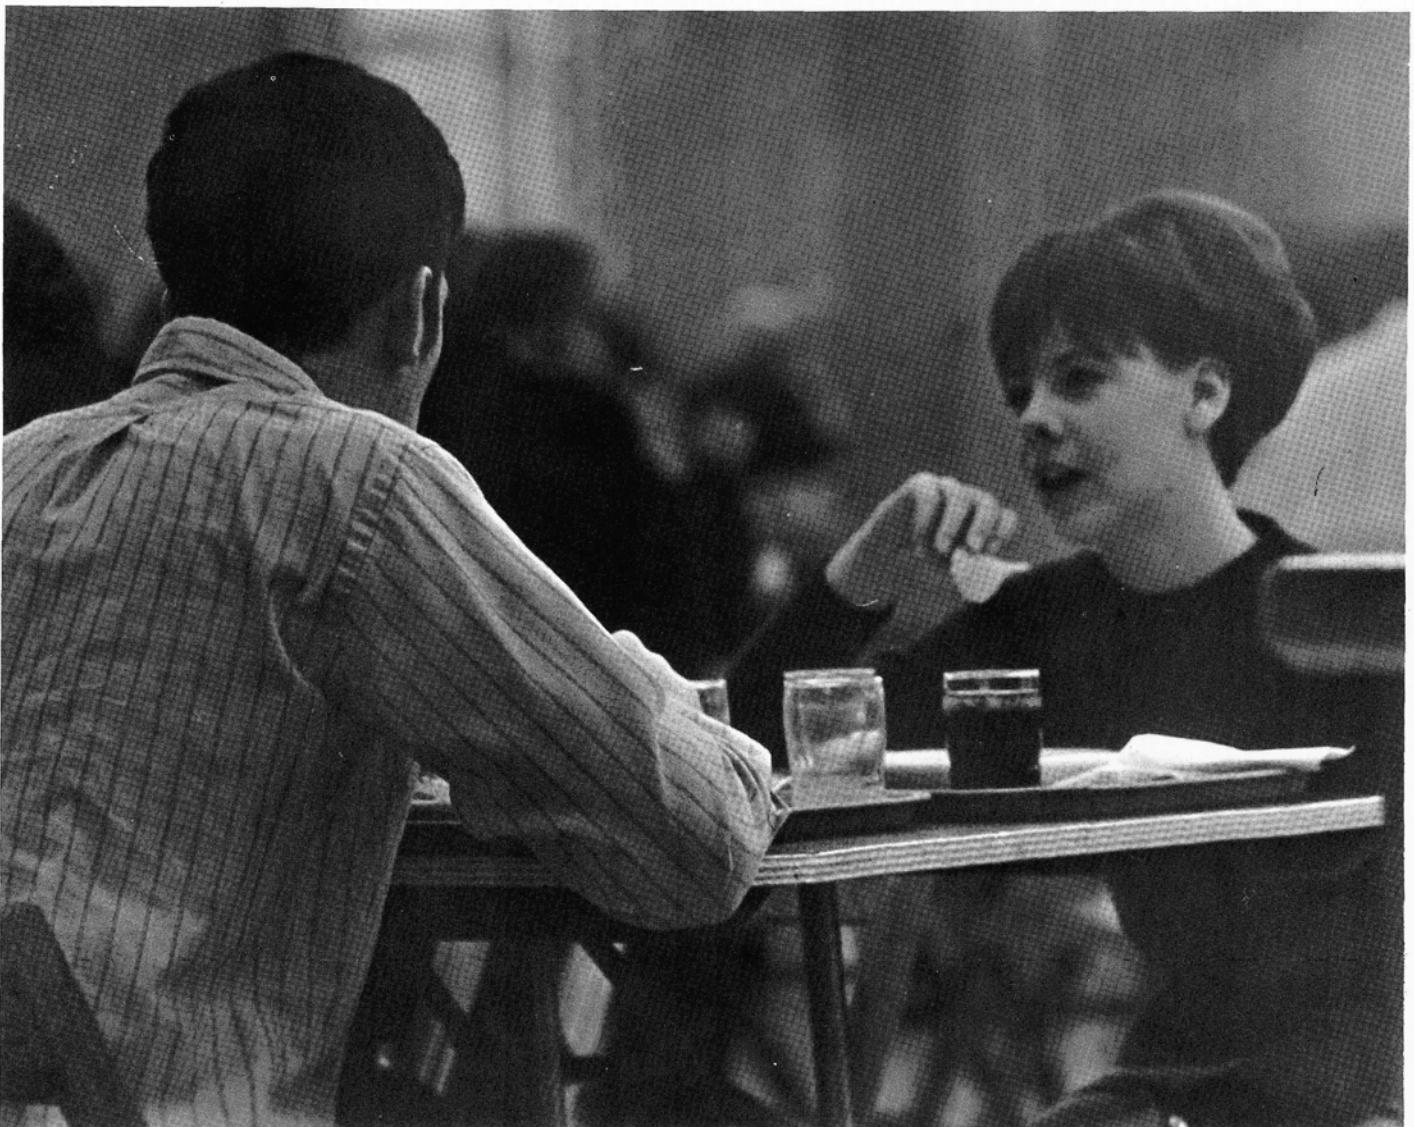

Precipitation in the form of water droplets falling from the sky is a perennial happening in Ada. Unexpected cloudbursts cause students to wonder if monsoon transplants are possible. Rain in Ada arouses thoughts of all types. Checking class lists, students wonder, "Is a course offered in How to Stop the Rain?", while someone else thinks, "Did I close the window before I left?" Some like the rain; others deplore it. Those without an umbrella feel like they have had an unexpected shower. An editor moans, "It's delivery day and my papers are getting wet." Girls smile, laugh, and giggle. Rain is fun.

MacIntosh Center — A Hub For Activity

Each day the staff of MacIntosh Center braces itself for the thousands of students who use the center as a thoroughfare to classes. Three times a day students jam the cafeteria to consume its offerings. This year the cafeteria has two egg lines and increased serving hours which are a boon to hungry students.

The lounge is a haven on cold, sub-zero days, a sports arena during the big games of televised football, baseball, and basketball, a place of elections, activities, and for meeting friends.

Bowling and billiards not only are recreational activities, but also are part of the curriculum of the physical education department which uses the facilities in the Center. Mac Intosh Center is as varied as the people using its facilities.

Heterick Memorial Library

Heterick Library has something for everyone. A student may study at an individual carrel, at a shelf near reference materials, or at a table for four, six, or eight. Couches provide comfortable areas for study and sometimes for sleeping. The library provides meeting places for classes, and on Saturday mornings education students hold a story hour for the children of Ada. Busy hours for usage of the library vary, but during finals week finding a place to call your own is like getting tickets to the final game of the World Series. As the end nears, the library is place for action.

“Constructiveness — The Future Of Civilization”

“I have come to value and admire and believe in youth who are constructive in their approach to problems; who respect that which is good and beautiful and true; who appreciate appearance and manners and culture; who honor courtesy and decency and morality; who admire character; who, each in his or her own way, hears the voice of God speak of things eternal . . . That is what I believe. That is what I want young people to believe. Through such a positive and constructive approach, youth can remake society, youth can remake the world, youth can solve the problems of peace and race and poverty and pollution. Our future, yours and mine, depends upon this — the future of civilization depends upon it.”

Head Coach Michael Palmisano

The Northern Cross Country Team held its own throughout the fall season, compiling a 3-7 record.

Lack of depth was the chief reason for the squad's performance. The prospects for next year are enhanced by a greater measure of experience than in the past years.

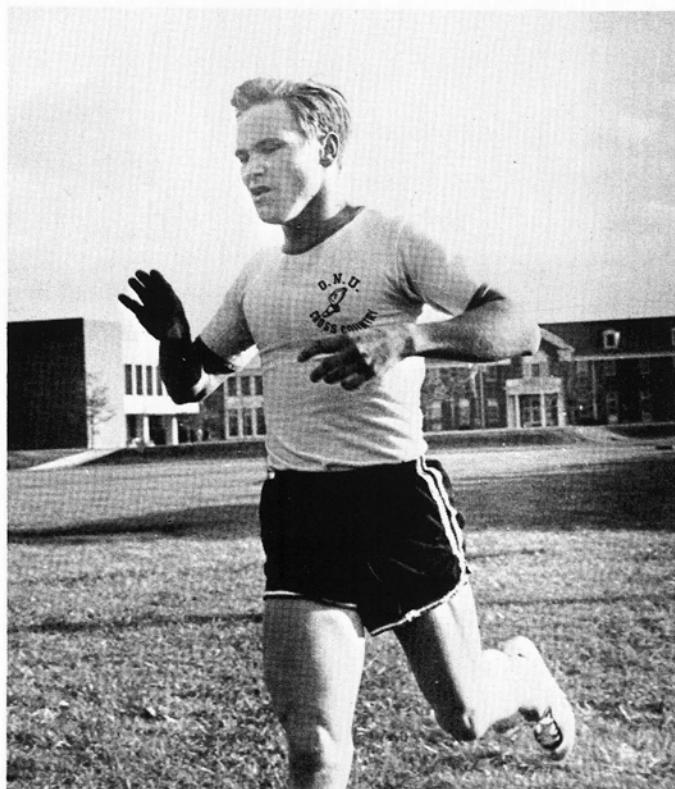

Northern finished six out of ten teams at the NAIA District 22 Meet held in Findlay November 8.

Northern Defense Shines As Season Ends 5-4

Hard fought victories and disappointing defeats earmarked the outings of the Polar Bear gridders as they compiled a close 5-4 record.

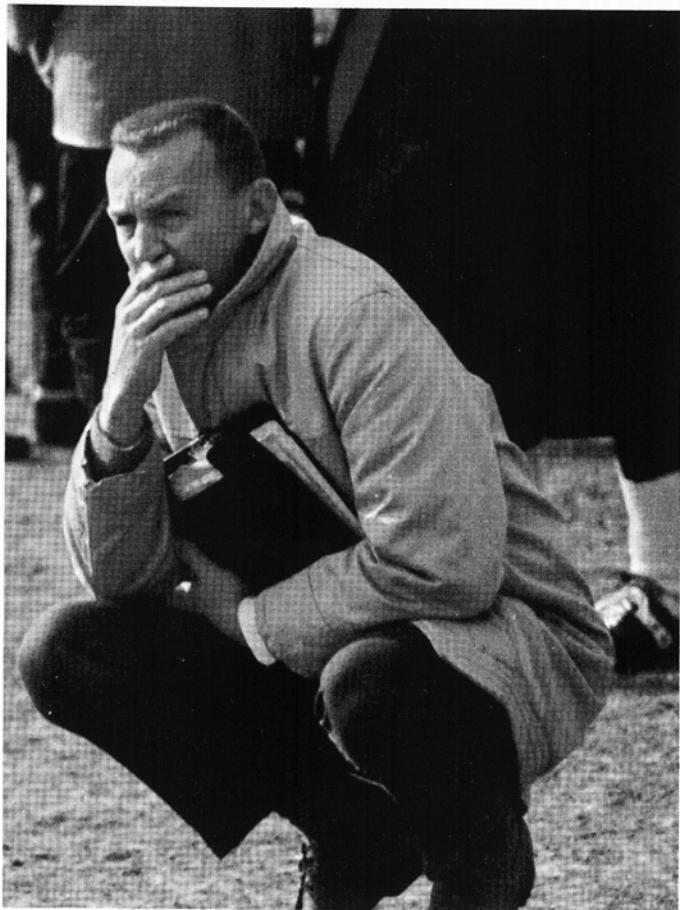

Sporting a tough and challenging defense, the Bears showed exceptional promise in that department. Perhaps the highlight of the season was the impressive defeat of Otterbein in the annual homecoming contest. The come-from-behind triumph at Ashland in late October upset a 10-0 third quarter deficit to overturn the Eagle's homecoming.

Offensive laurels went to senior tailback Damon Infalvi who had over 1130 yards rushing for the season, and broke records in carries per year (226) and carries in one game (37).

Chosen as tri-captains for the season were Greg Freewalt, Dan Walker, and Jim Fender.

Basketballers End Season 12-12

The Ohio Northern University basketballers took a green team and came up with an even season as they accumulated a 12 win-loss record.

Only one senior in the person of Tom Ross and one Junior, Randy Young, paced the team as lettermen.

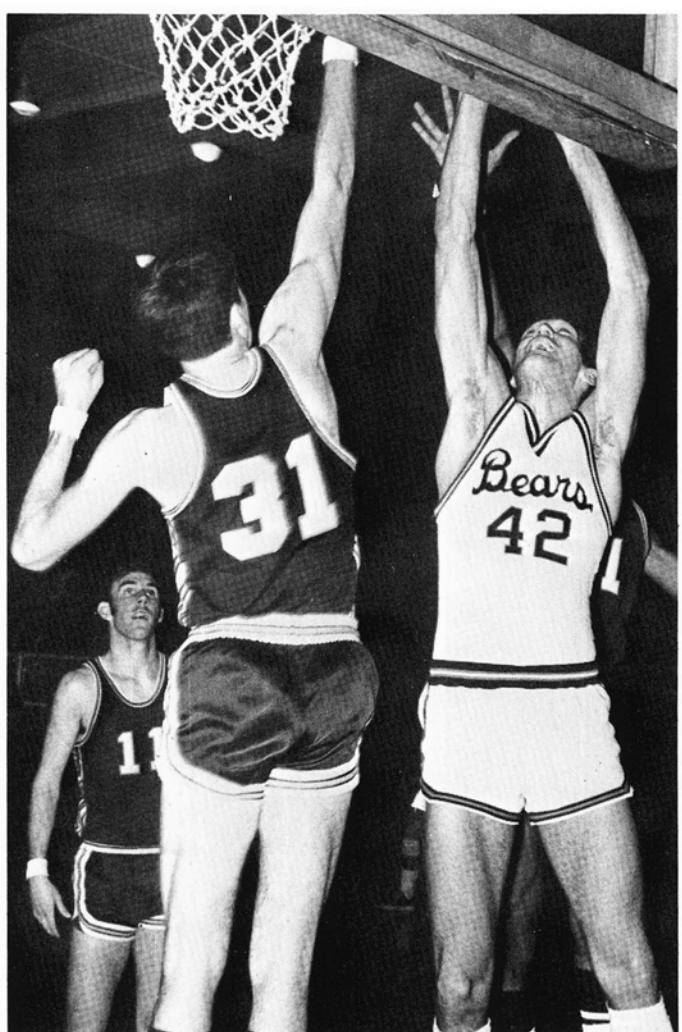

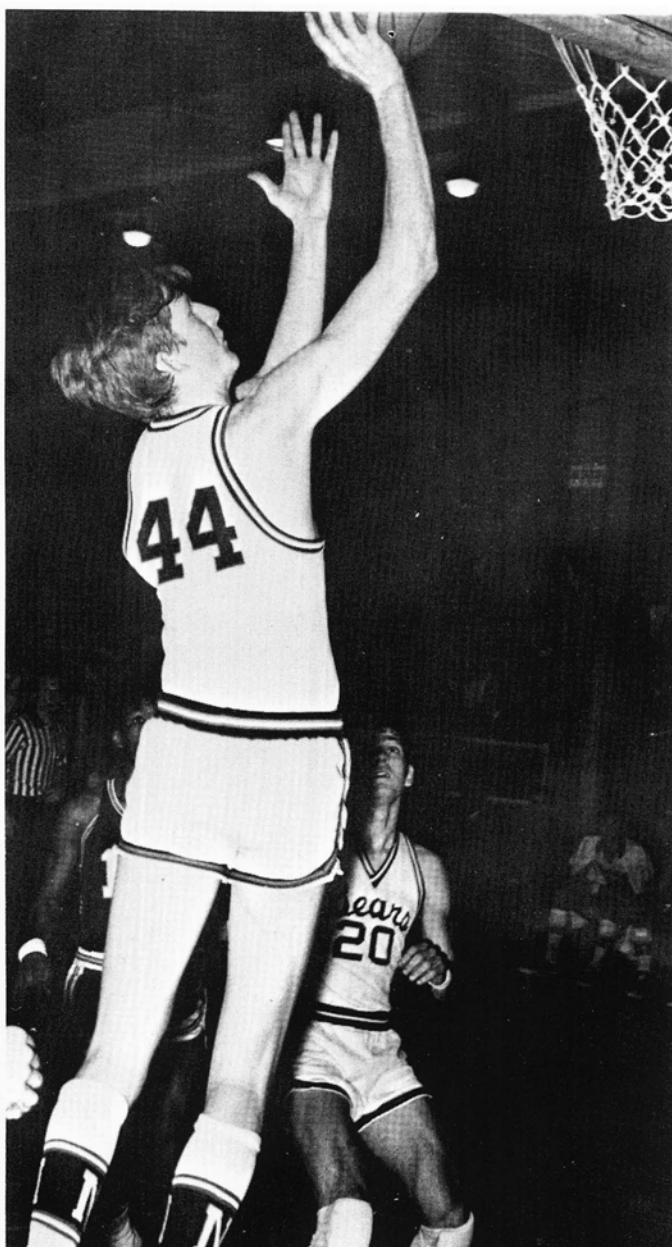

Starters for Northern were gathered from the ranks of last year's junior varsity squad; sophomores Bob Wilson and Mike Lhamon accompanied by freshman center Jack Mellinger made up the usual front five.

Highlighting the season were the defeats of neighbor rivals Bluffton and Findlay.

The Bears walked away with all honors at the Marshall, Michigan classic, avenging a defeat last year to Kalamazoo.

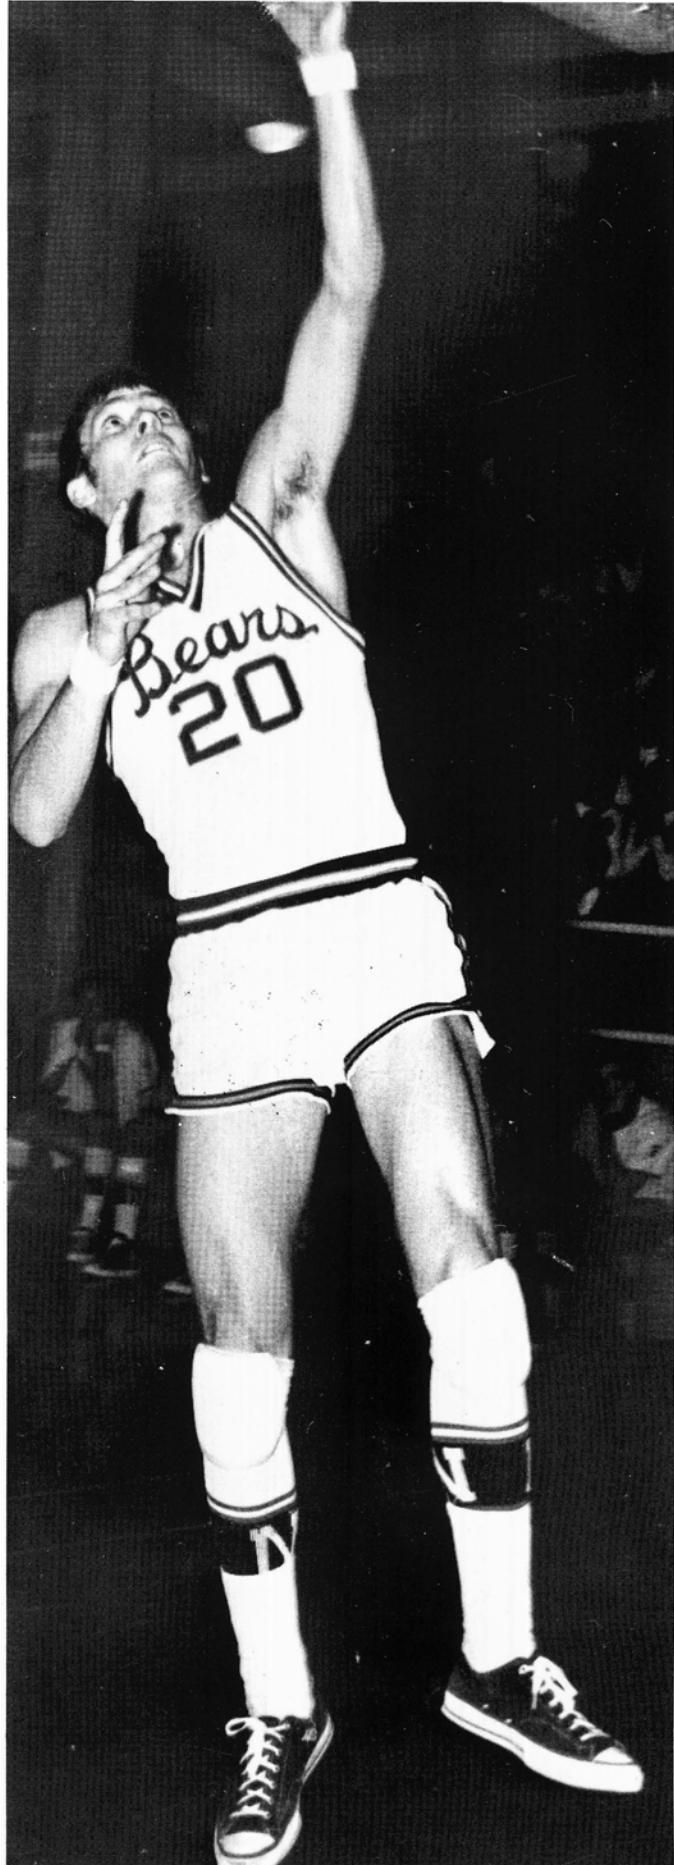

Mike Lhamon (34) is heavily guarded by Hillsdale's Jazwiecki and Graham.

Grapplers Finish Strong With Sixteen Straight

The Polar Bear wrestlers came off the mat at Muskingum College February 28 to end a near perfect season, accumulating only two losses in twenty-two performances.

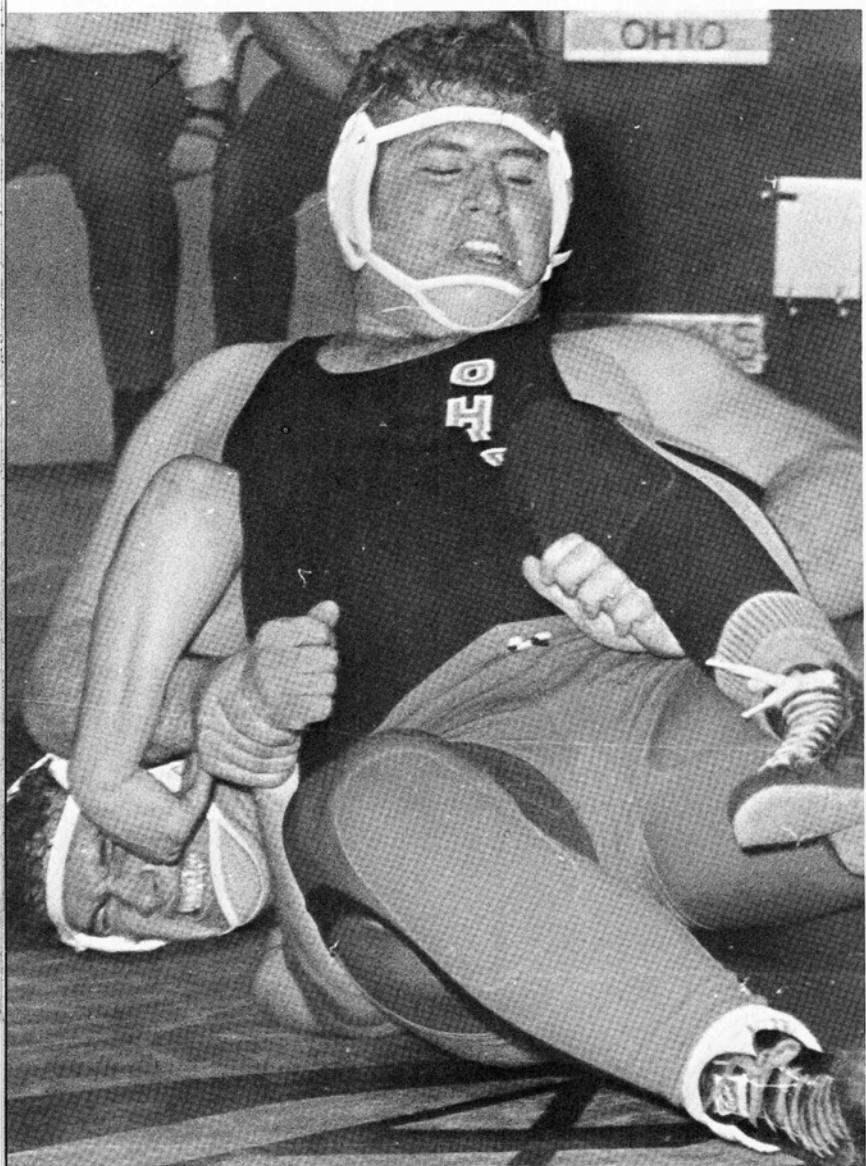

It was a flawless year for captain Curt Foulks as the Rome, N.Y. senior went the season without a defeat.

It was the fourth such season for grappler mentor Mike Palmisano who has brought the team to a 48-12-1 four-season climax.

Perhaps the most exciting win for the Bears was their defeat of Edinboro State, as nearly 2000 fans crowded into Taft Gym to watch the final home match of the season.

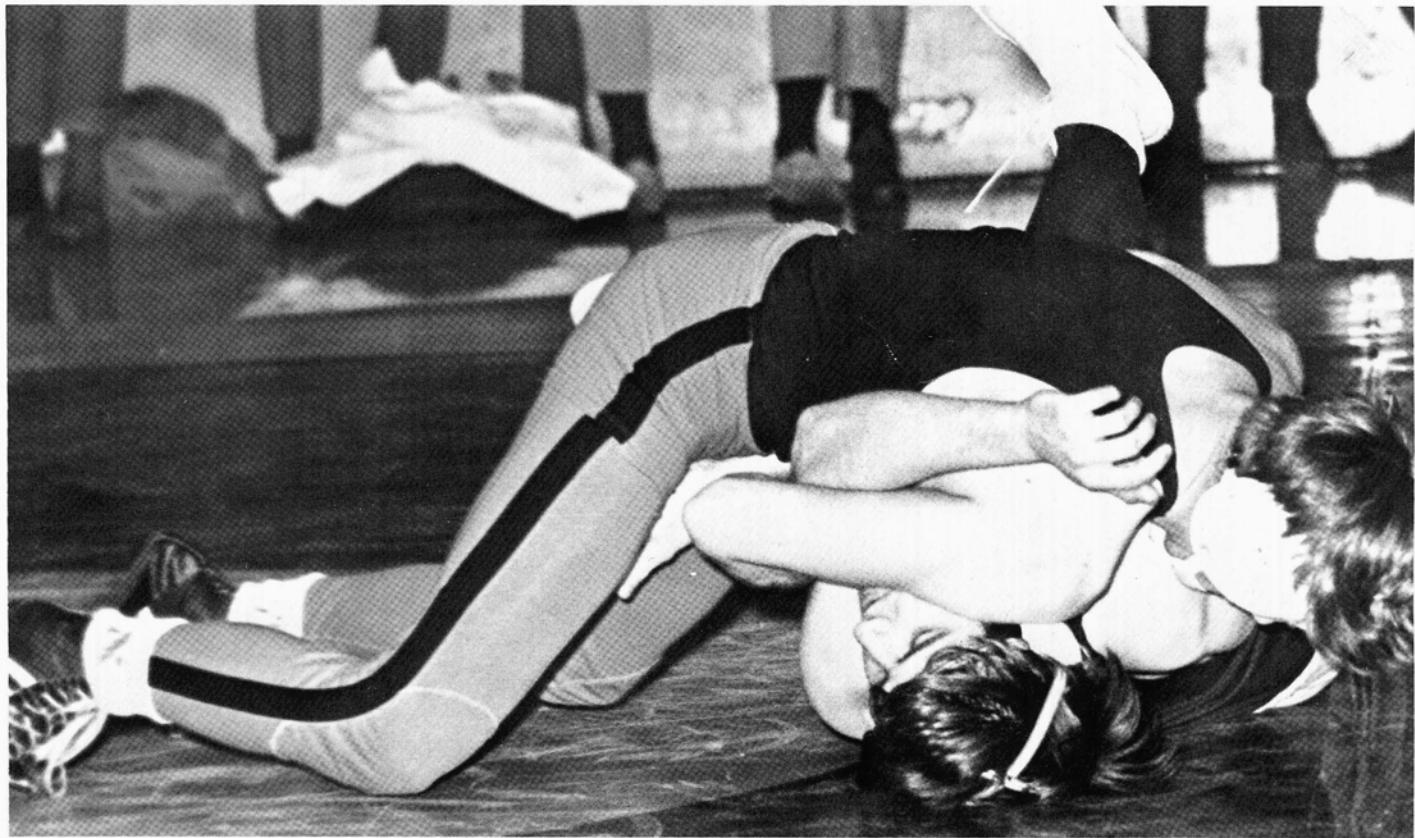

Bruce Williams moved down to 126 to defeat All American Larry Harrington of Edinboro 3-2. Both teams were in the country's top twenty near season's end.

Denny Nostrand (177) returns to the mat after greeting his Akron opponent (Right).

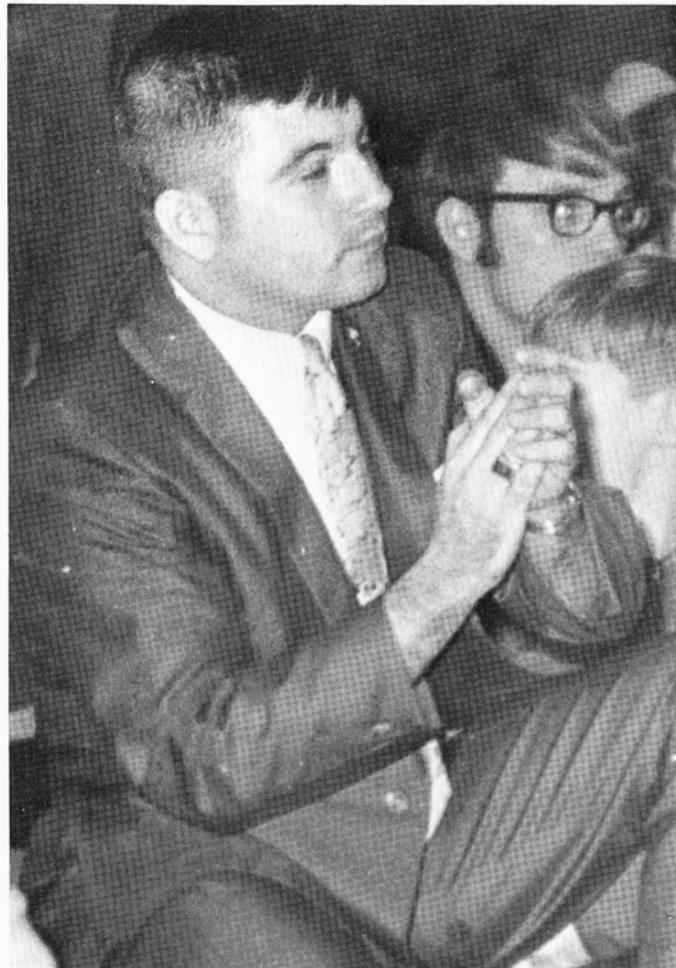

Freshman heavyweight Andy Fabris rides Western Illinois' Drymiller to achieve a 4-1 victory and clinch the 18-12 win for Northern.

Coached by Joe Miller and Ron Evans, the baseballers scored for 92 runs to their opponents' 122. One run margins made the difference in six contests; two meant losses, four spelled victory for the Bears.

Ohio Northern University's tennis team finished 7-3 in season play last spring, capping the tour with an unprecedented six game win string.

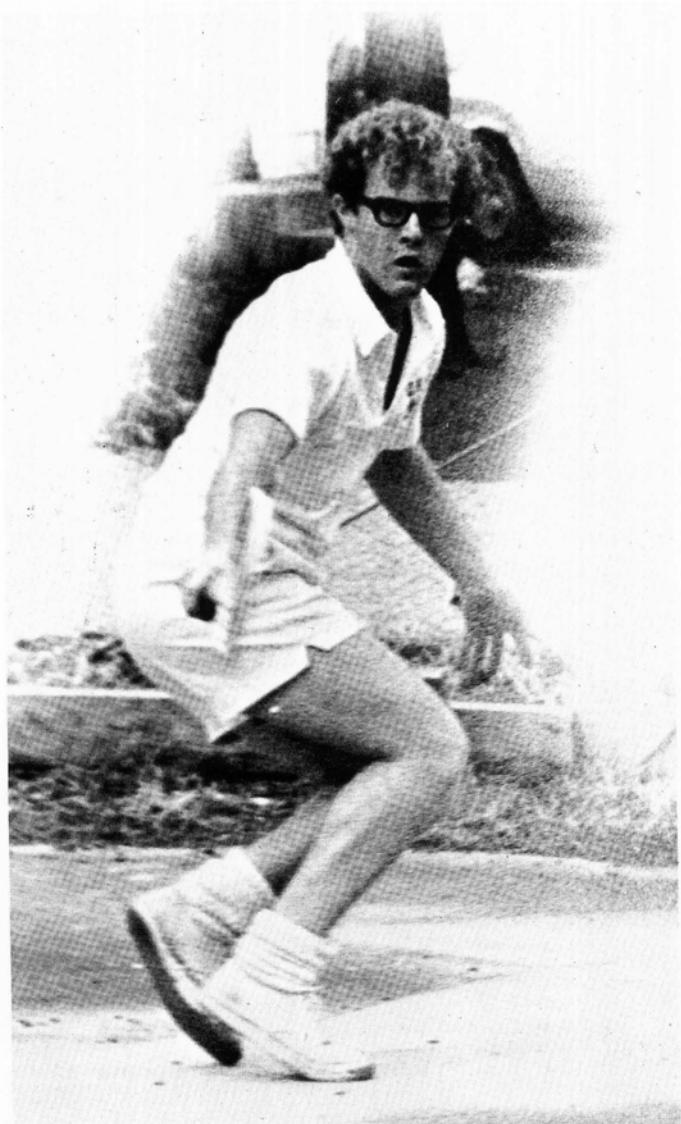

After losing the openers to Ohio Wesleyan and Cedarville by identical 0-9 tallies, Northern exploded for a 7-2 victory over Defiance. Falling to Hillsdale, the Bears then picked up momentum for the remainder of the season, taking all the final matches.

Headed by Coach Bob Middleton, the netmen accumulated 58 points to their opponents' 39.

At mid-season the Bears were at a 4-2 mark, but fell into a slump two matches later as they lost four straight to close the season.

Close wins were taken over the University of Dayton and Defiance College; both by 9 1/2 to 10 1/2 scores.

Arden "Stretch" Roberson is the coach for the Polar Bears.

Finish At Hillsdale Tops Northern Season

Ohio Northern's track squad fared poorly in dual competition but rebounded as the season progressed to compile two third places and a fourth in the Ferris Relays.

Near the end of the season the Bears came on strong with a spectacular first place finish at the Hillsdale Relays, topping the list with 48 points, six markers behind second place Ferris.

Ferris had defeated Ohio Northern previously at the Ferris competition.

ONU Lettermen Serve Athletic Department

With a stated purpose of serving as a service organization with a specific duty to the athletic department, the Ohio Northern University Lettermen's Club provides many services to that department of the university.

Heading the Lettermen in his second year as president is senior Gary Rose. Activities of the club include an annual raffle, the selling of concessions and programs at athletic contests, looking after the visiting team and officials, and their yearly pancake dinner.

In addition, the club sponsors the Lettermen's Queen Contest as a yearly event; the winner reigning over a mid-winter quarter wrestling match and serving as secretary of the club for the following year.

Advisor to the club is Coach Bob Middleton.

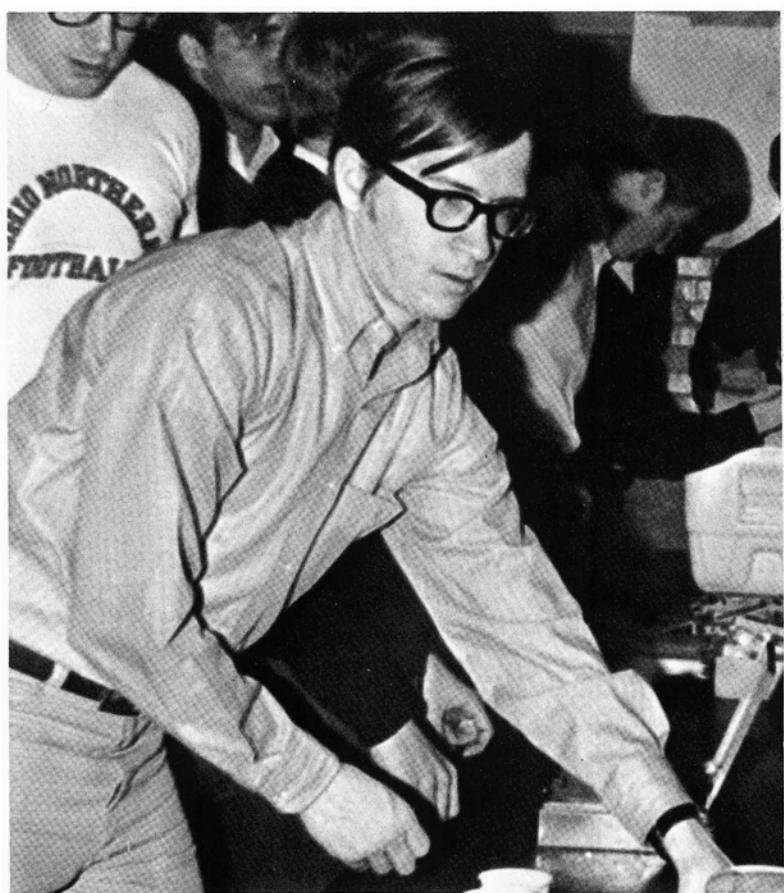

Sophomore Glenn Reynolds sells programs preceding the varsity contest with Bluffton.
